

GUARDIAN

"PATIENT PROTECTOR"

Akbash - Anatolian Shepherd - Bernese Mountain Dog - Boerboel - Bullmastiff - Cane Corso - Dogue de Bordeaux - English Mastiff - Fila Brasileiro - Great Dane - Great Pyrenees - Greater Swiss Mountain Dog - Kangal - Leonberger - Komondor - Kuvasz - Maremma Sheepdog - Neapolitan Mastiff - Newfoundland - Sarplaninac - Spanish Mastiff - St. Bernard - Tibetan Mastiff - mixes of any of above breeds

You'll fall in love with your guardian because he's:

Cool - Level-headed and mellow, reserved and chivalrous, he has a low-maintenance demeanor.
Tolerant - He's gracious and gentle, and is patient with other human and animal social members
Protective - He will surely make you feel safer home alone or walking down the street

You might find a guardian hard to live with because he's:

Opinionated - Discerning and independent of mind, a guardian may be resistant to your instructions
Suspicious - He can be unwelcoming to those he perceives as threats to the home and loved ones
Big - His size and strength may feel a bit impractical to manage at times

You might find yourself seeking professional help for:

- Aggression toward unfamiliar people or animals, especially near the home or your property
- Wandering off
- Not coming when called
- Protectiveness of owners or other pets
- Territorial barking
